Butler National Retains Corporate Strategy Firm To Leverage New Growth Opportunities and Build Awareness

OLATHE, KANSAS, July 19, 2010, - Butler National Corporation (OTC Bulletin Board BUKS), a leading manufacturer and provider of support systems for "Classic" commercial and military aircraft and a recognized provider of professional management services in the gaming industry, announces that it has retained Humanity Worldwide Capital Group to assist in the development of a long-term growth strategy to better leverage projected future growth. A New York-based corporate consulting group, Humanity specializes in small-cap publicly traded companies and is led by former senior executives from Deloitte & Touche Consulting Group and Ogilvy & Mather.

Clark D. Stewart, CEO of Butler National said, "We believe that we are entering a period of expansion and we are confident this new strategic partnership may help us achieve our corporate growth objectives and build awareness in the investor community." Lou Albert Rodriguez, Managing Partner at Humanity added, "We have helped small-cap companies like Pacific Asia Petroleum (now CAMAC Energy Inc. (CAK)) transition from the OTC to the NYSE by implementing a corporate strategy that is highly focused and highly valued by existing shareholders, new investors and institutions." Butler National will also launch a new investor awareness campaign that will begin this fall with an initial focus on major markets in the Midwest regional states.
